Perfect for printing out and taping on your walls for dry-fire practice. 1/3 Size to mimic farther distances.

Smaller-sized IPSC torso target to simulate even farther distances. Page 3

Page 4 - Dot Torture Test
The best training you can get in 50 rounds. Start at 3 yards and keep all the shots in the circle targets. If your range doesn't allow draws, start with your pistol on the table or at low ready.

Page 5 - Bill Drill
Start at 7 yards and shoot 6 shots as fast as you can into the 6x11 target. This drill is meant to work on speed without sacrificing accuracy. Move the target back to make it more difficult.

Page 6 - Walk Back Drill
Place at 3 yards and shoot 5 rounds at each target. This simulates 3x5 cards placed at 3 yards, 5 yards, and 7 yards. Work on accuracy instead of brute speed.

Page 7 - 5x5 Drill
5 shots, 5 inches, 5 yards, 5 seconds, and do 5 times. Perfect score is 25/25.

Page 8 - Red Dot 25 Yard Zero
Simulates a 50 yard zero but taken at 25 yards to make it easier for 1x optics such as red dots. Line up with the colored bullseye so that the bullet impacts the gray bullseye. Calibrated for M193 5.56 cartridge dropoff.

5x5 Drill

Original drill by Gila Hayes.

Instructions: Five shots, five inches, five yards, five seconds. Starting from a low ready position, at the beep fire five rounds at one of the circles. The goal is to land all five shots in the circle within five seconds.

Variations: For an added challenge, draw from the holster instead of low ready. To test consistency, repeat the drill five times. A “pass” is 25 shots with no misses.
